WILLIAM R. KELLY COLLECTION

VOLUME

3 LINEAR FEET, 2 BOXES

This collection includes documents donated by William R. Kelly (1883-1981). The variety of documents includes U.S. Government publications concerning Federal Reformation Programs, U. S. Agriculture Department Bulletins, and bulletins concerning the Northern Colorado Water Conservancy District. Also included in this collection, are publications on Western states water resources, the Western Resources Conference, brochures and personal papers concerning various water projects and issues, and local reports about water pollution and irrigation. The dates of items in the collection range from 1990-1973. A biography of Kelly from Who's Who in Colorado is included in the collection.

An important item in the collection is Water (and Law) in a Thirsty Land. The book is composed of 28 articles, as early as 1934, written by William R. Kelly and compiled August 19, 1970. Several articles in the book have been published.

The final item contained in the collection is a publication of The Colorado Water Conservation Board—Denver and Colorado Agriculture and Mechanical College-Fort Collins. It is titled A Hundred Years of Irrigation in Colorado, 100 Years Organized and Continuous Irrigation 1852-1952.

This inventory was prepared by Shirley Soenksen on 2009 January 21. It was slightly revised from an undated original inventory.
