

The general call number for University of Northern Colorado publications is LB 1840. That general number includes doctoral dissertations, master's theses, honors papers, specialist in education papers, University publications, and the school yearbook, Cache la Poudre.

The call numbers currently in use are:

- LB 1840 .G744 [date] [author designation] – dissertations
- LB 1840 .G746 [date] [author designation] – undergraduate honors theses
- LB 1840 .G747 [date] [author designation] – master's theses
- LB 1840 .G748 [date] [author designation] – specialist in education papers

Searching for dissertations and the other cataloged student research can be done using The Source. Our institution has had five names in the course of its history, and when the search string "University of Northern Colorado" is used, it applies only to work done since 1970. Previous institutional names apply when searching for works from prior dates:

- Colorado State College – 1957-1970
- Colorado State College of Education at Greeley – 1935-1957
- State Teachers College of Colorado – 1911-1935
- State Normal School – 1889-1911

Searching for a dissertation by a known degree recipient:

- In The Source, Click on Author
- Type the name of the author according to the instructions on the screen

Searching for dissertations by a specific department, school, or college:

- In The Source, Click on Word
- Type in University of Northern Colorado and the name of the department, school, or college
- NOTE: Departments, schools, and colleges have reorganized and renamed over the years. Using keywords such as special education, reading, history, etc. and omitting words such as school, college, and department will yield the best results

Searching for research supervised by a particular major research advisor:

- In The Source, Click on Author
- Type the name of the faculty advisor according to the instructions on the screen
- NOTE: The results of this search will include papers supervised by the faculty advisor as well as any books that s/he may have written. To identify the dissertations, master's theses, honors, or specialist papers, select titles with the LB 1840 call numbers.

Searching for all dissertations from all departments for a known year:

- In The Source, Click on Numbers
- Select Library of Congress Call Number
- Type LB1840 G744 1990 (for dissertations from 1990, for example)

Copies of all UNC publications are in the Michener Stacks. Dissertations are also available in microfiche or microfilm. Archival Services has copies of all dissertations, master's theses, and specialist in education papers. Honors papers are in Michener Stacks only.

UNC dissertations from 1997 on may be downloaded free of charge from ProQuest Digital Dissertations, the online version of Dissertation Abstracts, listed on the Online Databases and Article Indexes page on The Source. This database can also be used to identify UNC dissertations on specific subjects.